About RUSA Sponsored Seminar

Creation and Dissemination of Knowledge through research plays vital role in higher education. The research should not be done for the sake of getting degree only. Research is an opportunity to make real contribution to society by studying and resolving difficult problems. Research is the systematic and objective process of gathering, recording and analyzing data in order to find answers. With this in mind this RUSA Sponsored National Seminar aims to impart to its participants the basics of research and IPR. It aims to motivate the participants to undertake meaningful and serious research. This seminar will help faculty and researchers to identify research areas, research problems. It will inculcate skills to write a good research paper. Good research leads to ideas that must be protected. IPR protection plays a key role in securing economic rights and in turn contribute to the economic growth of the country. This seminar also aims to create awareness and knowledge about filing patent and obtaining IPR.
